A grade below 70 will not receive any high school credit.*Be cautious about taking classes the second summer semester that are not online. TCS will begin school before the semester is completed. *Remember that these are college level courses. Professors will expect to communicate only with the student, not the parents. Please expect to take on the responsibility of self-paced, difficult work. Most professors do not accept late work, and due dates are typically given at the first of each semester.
