

Parents:

Below are this semester's Semester Exam Schedules and Semester Exam Exemption Policies. Students only have to be present for the classes they test in, but if they are on campus during a testing period, they must be in their assigned class, even if they are exempt. Students will be notified whether they are exempt or non-exempt on Wednesday,

Semester Exam Exemption Policy

Exemption from semester testing is a privilege, not a right. English, math, science, and Bible are core courses at TCS, and students are not allowed to be exempt from them.

To be considered exempt, all the following criteria must be met:

1. The semester grade must be (average of 3rd and 4th Quarter grades)
 - 85 or higher average in all non-honors classes.
 - 90 or higher average in all honors classes, receiving the extra honors grade points (+7).
2. Students may not receive:
 - More than 5 Homework Remediation assignments considering all classes together during the semester.
 - More than 3 fines during the semester.
 - More than 5 unexcused tardies to any one class during the semester. More than 5 to any class disqualifies a student from exemptions for all classes.
 - May not have more than 5 absences per class during the semester or the test for that class must be taken
 - May not have more than 5 temporary lanyard checkouts.
 - ISS or OSS during the semester.

The administration may exclude any student from test exemption due to disciplinary action if deemed necessary.
